“Time the Avenger”

Swadlincote Town Hall is a Grade II listed building situated in the midst of Swadlincote’s pedestrianised town centre, in the heart of The National Forest.

The Town Hall was erected in 1861 at a cost of £1,179. Initially known as the Market Hall it once served as a magistrate’s court for one day a week. In the quest to find sufficient capital for a new Market Hall, the Reverend J.B. Stevens went about collecting subscriptions.

Two of his targets were members of the local gentry, Sir Henry and Lady Sophia Des Voeux.

Whereas her Ladyship volunteered £20, her husband was meaner. Suffering from gout and recent financial losses in court, he was eventually persuaded to match his wife’s generosity on condition that the words ‘Time the Avenger’ were inscribed below the clock on the new hall.

Today, Swadlincote Town Hall is a public building managed by South Derbyshire District Council that can be hired out for community use and private functions.

About the venue

Swadlincote Town Hall is a medium-sized, one room venue ideal for meetings, exhibitions, fairs, seminars, training and private gatherings.

The Hall measures approximately 11m x 9m (37ft x 30ft) with an additional stage area at one end of approximately 3m x 3m (11ft x 11ft).

The maximum capacity for the hall is 120 however this depends on the type of event you wish to hold there. For example, should you wish to have the room laid out theatre-style the maximum capacity would be 80. Likewise, if your event was seated and tabled (i.e. meeting style) your maximum capacity would be 65.

There is a small kitchen area available for use at no extra cost although refreshment consumables (i.e. tea, coffee, milk etc) are not provided. Should you require catering for your event, you are more than welcome to organise your own or we can provide a list of outside caterers on request.

The Town Hall has tables and chairs available for use and, on the provision of a layout plan, can be set out for you prior to your event.

Whilst the venue does not have its own parking area, there are plenty of free public car parks around the town as indicated on the map overleaf.
